

Food On A Truck

by Tursus Software

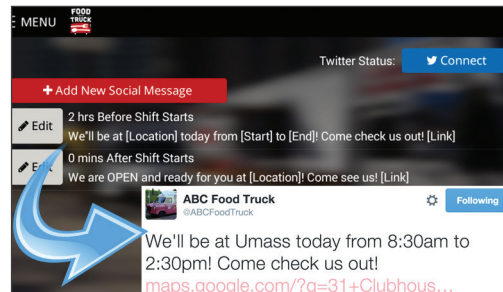

Are you a mobile vendor using Clover? Use the Food on a Truck app to grow your mobile business.

Food on a Truck extends Clover to include location and schedule management in one app. We automatically update your website and tweet so more customers show up hungry for your product. We provide a reporting dashboard so you can make better decisions on how to grow your mobile business plus a customer survey to get critical feedback from your customers.

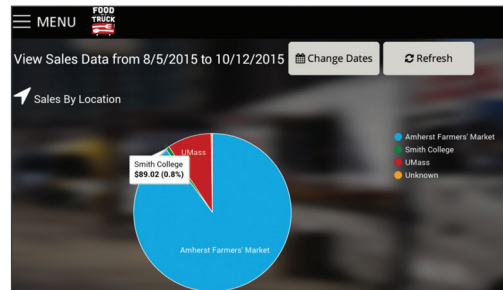

App is easy to use, just plug in your locations and schedule. You'll never have to update your website again with your schedule.

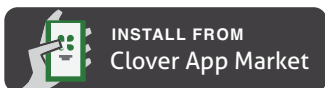

Connect twitter and we automatically tweet your customers with custom messages. More customers show up hungry for your product!
